

Four Winds Brewing

Four Winds joined the burgeoning British Columbia (Canada) craft beer scene and opened their doors to a public thirsty for new local offerings on June 1, 2013. Owned, operated and built from the ground up by the Mills family and friends, we are inspired by the Four Winds in gathering flavors from around the world to create our unique West Coast and European styles. We take great pleasure in the application of new world innovations while staying true to old world techniques. Motivated by the limitless potential of beer, as well as the great brewers who came before us, we aim to craft bold beers with character, depth, and balance. Situated just off the banks of the Fraser River in Delta BC, our brewery is geared towards bottle, can and draft production.
