JEB DUNNUCK

"This impeccably run estate makes great wines from throughout the Rhône Valley, and their rosés are always terrific. The 2019 Tavel Le Crétacé has a complex bouquet of wild strawberries, cherry blossoms, and spring flowers. This carries to a medium-bodied Tavel that has terrific overall balance, a clean, refreshing texture, and a crisp finish. It's a richer, balanced, dry rosé geared for the dinner table. I'd be happy to have it on my table any time over the coming 6-12 months."
