

Weingut Hartl

Austria - Niederosterreich

The winery carries the name of the owner's family. It has been in the Hartl family for generations and winemaking has been in the region for centuries, dating back to Roman times. As a traditional family business, Heinrich III is the seventh generation winemaker in charge today. His parents still support him greatly, as well as his wife Marie-Sophie. Their children grow up on the property and learn about organic farming from their young days on.
